THE PANDEMIC CURVE

Where are we now?

INDUSTRY INSIGHT

What does this mean for the travel industry?

DOMESTIC TRAVEL

Easing of restrictions are taking place in countries across Europe. In Asia we have seen some pockets of resurgence. Across the US, Latin America & Africa, many countries are still seeing a surge in cases

INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL

Availability is still currently relatively low. Some airlines are announcing route resumptions and/or new routes. Options for crossing land borders for countries forming 'bubbles '

CONSIDERATIONS

- Travelling is likely to become more laborious with screening/testing/social distancing measures introduced upstream of, during the journey and on arrival
- Change of in-flight environment – meals, bathroom use
- Touchless boarding
- Crew protection

The screenshot shows the International SOS website interface. At the top left is the International SOS logo. To its right, the phone number +1 215 942 8226 is displayed with a search icon and a 'Member Log In' link. Further right are links for 'About Us', 'Careers', 'Foundation', and 'Sustainability'. Below this is a navigation menu with 'Solutions', 'News & Events', 'Members', 'Personal Travel', and 'Contact'. A secondary menu below that includes 'Events', 'Newsroom', 'COVID-19', 'Insights', and 'Videos & Magazines'. The main content area features a video player titled 'CORONAVIRUS DISEASE (COVID-19) PANDEMIC' with social media icons. The video player shows four participants: Dr. Irene Lai, Dr. Greg Jakubowski, Michael Hancock, and Dr. Mark Parrish. To the right of the video is a blue header for a contact form: 'COMPLETE THE FORM TO BE CONTACTED ABOUT OUR PANDEMIC PLANNING AND INFECTIOUS DISEASE RESPONSE SERVICES FOR YOUR ORGANISATION'. The form includes fields for First Name, Last Name, Job Title, Company Email Address, Company, and Business Phone. A timestamp at the bottom of the video player reads 'Video recorded on 1 June 2021'.
